About the Lord Leicester

The Lord Leicester was founded in 1571 by Robert Dudley, Earl of Leicester as a charity to provide a home to ex-servicemen called 'Brethren' who had fought in the wars of the Tudor age during the reign of Elizabeth I.

Over the years, we have continued to uphold this noble tradition. It is with immense pride that we can say that our unique community continues to thrive, thanks to the unwavering support we receive from organisations and individuals.

About the Friends

Friends' memberships directly contribute to helping us continue our mission and preserve our exceptional philanthropic heritage. Your kindness enables us to maintain the extraordinary sense of community that defines the Lord Leicester.
